Indian Trails Mission

The NACCC has been a strong supporter of Indian Trails Mission for more than fifty years. They have done great work among the Native Americans in Arizona and Mexico. After the passing of Sharon and Tom Gossett, the mission lost many supporters. The Gossett's children continued the mission for a while but without ongoing support, they have made the decision to close. At the end of October 2018, Indian Trails will cease to exist. The Mission Council and NACCC wants to thank all of you for your generous support over the years.
