

YEAR ROUND DELEGATE

Overview

Your church selects a person who will participate in monthly communication with the National Association of Congregational Christian Churches (NACCC) staff, members of the Leadership Team, and perhaps others, via email, conference calls, or snail mail. This person should be willing to enter into an exchange of information with those needing feedback and advice from your congregation.

Our primary focus is on ensuring that the needs of our churches are being met. This is your opportunity to help the National Association become a more effective organization in serving your church and other NACCC member churches. Yours is a vital role to play in keeping the NACCC informed of views and concerns emanating from your congregation and sharing matters coming from the NACCC, all year long.

The Year Round Delegate will:

- Facilitate communication between your church and those needing feedback and advice from your congregation.
- Strengthen the connection between the NACCC and the local church by providing congregations a consistent and ongoing voice in all matters and happenings.
- Have the opportunity to communicate with their sister churches in the Association.

How does the Year Round Delegate differ from an Annual Meeting & Conference Delegate?

Annual Meeting & Conference Delegate

Involvement is Only at the Annual Meeting
Voting power

Year Round Delegate

Involvement is year round
Does not vote

Can the Annual Meeting Delegate and the Year Round Delegate be the same person?

Yes, if your church so chooses.
